

JustPotters Instructor Job Description

Link to the Mission

At JustWork, we aspire to be a part of a healthy community where people are meaningfully and gainfully employed and where business practices embrace an ethical, social mandate. To achieve this, JustWork offers dignified, meaningful work opportunities for people facing multiple barriers to employment. Central to our organization's aim is the social value of creating working contexts where those with some kind of disability or working barrier can become agents of their own transformation. You can read more about our vision, mission, and values www.justwork.ca.

JustPotters (founded in 2006) is a social enterprise operated by JustWork Economic Initiative. Our goal is to offer dignified work for people who face barriers to employment, while providing our wholesale, and retail customers with beautiful, locally handcrafted ceramics.

Overview

The JustPotters Instructor should be skilled in hand-building, wheel thrown pottery or a combination of these and have the ability to teach this skill to other participants in a course or workshop. We offer a small training period but require the applicant to have sound production pottery making skills.

Job Responsibilities:

- Deliver instruction to students in your class and/or workshop
- Prepare needed materials and room setup needed for the class
- Worker should also be able to clean up all areas and equipment used by course participants that was not fulfilled by the participants themselves.
- Ensure all finished pottery pieces by students are labeled and able to be kiln fired successfully

Requirements:

- Able to work comfortably and respectfully within a small team environment
- Proficient knowledge in wheel throwing and/or hand building
- Skills in leading or assisting in leading pottery workshops and classes
- Ability to take direction from supervisors and other staff.